Important notice

ING Life Limited (ING Life) is the insurer in respect of a group insurance arrangement. It is important that you have read and understood the current Product Disclosure Statement for the cover for which you are applying.

You are requested to complete this form if one of the following applies to you:

- you are proposing to become an insured member under the policy and your benefits are subject to assessment by ING Life
- you are an existing insured member and your benefit (or part thereof) is subject to assessment by ING Life.

ING Life requires this Personal Statement and other health information to assist us in making a decision on your proposed insurance cover. This Personal Statement is confidential. Please refer to the Privacy Statement in the Product Disclosure Statement.

You may wish to seal it in an envelope and send it to:

ING Life Limited
GPO Box 4129
Sydney NSW 2001

Your duty of disclosure

You have a duty under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 (Cth) to disclose to the insurer every matter that you know or could reasonably be expected to know, is relevant to the insurer's decision whether to accept the risk of insurance and, if so, on what terms.

Your duty of disclosure applies even after your application is completed and until the insurer has assessed and accepted your application for insurance cover, or an increase in cover.

You have the same duty to disclose those matters to the insurer before you change your insurance cover or apply for new cover. Your duty, however, does not require disclosure of a matter that:

- diminishes the risk to be undertaken by the insurer
- is of common knowledge
- the insurer knows, or in the ordinary course of business, ought to know or
- the insurer has waived.

Non-disclosure

If you fail to comply with your duty of disclosure and the insurer would not have entered into the contract on any terms if the failure had not occurred, the insurer may avoid the contract within three years of entering into it. If your non-disclosure is fraudulent, the insurer may avoid the contract at any time.

An insurer who is entitled to avoid a contract of life insurance may, within three years of entering into it, elect not to avoid it but to reduce the sum that you have been insured for in accordance with a formula that takes into account the premium that would have been payable if you had disclosed all relevant matters to the insurer.

12. Privacy Statement

ING is committed to ensuring the confidentiality and security of a member's personal information. The ING Privacy Policy detailing our handling of personal information is available upon request or may be downloaded from www.ing.com.au. Members may request access to information held by us about the member, the policy or scheme of which the member is an insured member, and any other ING products or services which the member may hold by contacting the ING Privacy Officer at the address below. The member may assist us by contacting ING Customer Services if any of their personal information is incorrect, has changed or requires updating.

Where the member's employer or superannuation fund trustee (fund) has established a GSC Policy, it may be necessary for us to:

- collect personal information from the member
- collect some personal information about the member from the employer/fund
- disclose some of the member's personal information to the employer/fund in order to undertake the management and administration of the GSC Policy.

In order to undertake the management and administration of our products and services, it may be necessary for us to disclose the member's personal information to certain third parties. Unless the member consents to such disclosure we will not be able to process the application, administer the insurance, process a claim or provide the relevant ING products or services. The types of organisations to whom we may routinely disclose the member's personal information include:

- doctors, medical services or other organisations providing services in the collection, collation or assessment of personal information (including health information) for the purpose of underwriting or assessing your application or assessing any claims
- reinsurance organisations for the purpose of underwriting your application or assessing claims
- organisations undertaking compliance reviews of our financial advisers or reviews of the accuracy and completeness of our information
- organisations maintaining our information technology systems and providing information technology services
- organisations providing analysis and research
- authorised financial institutions, such as banks, credit unions and building societies, providing account details as a mechanism for providing payments or receipt of payments
- organisations providing mailing services and undertaking the printing of our standard documents and correspondence
- Trustees of the member's superannuation fund (if the insurance is linked to such a fund), or their appointed administration company who administers your insurance on their behalf.

We will disclose the member's personal information to these organisations to enable them to undertake specified management and administration services.

For life risk products (including Group Salary Continuance) we collect health information with the member's consent. A member's health information will only be disclosed to service providers such as doctors, reinsurers and assessors who are directly involved in collecting, collating or assessing such information for the purpose of underwriting or assessing the application or assessing any claim. Where the member's insurance forms part of a superannuation fund, we may also be required to provide copies of the member's health information to the Trustees of the fund (or their appointed administrator who administers the insurance cover on their behalf) for purposes such as verifying a decision made by us in accordance with obligations imposed by law). A member's health information will not be disclosed by ING for any other purpose.

We will also disclose a member's personal information in circumstances where we are required by law to do so.

Please note amendments to the Family Law Act 1975 commenced on 28 December 2002 enabling certain persons to request information about a member's interest in a superannuation fund. The policy owner may, if requested, be required to provide information about the member's interest in a superannuation fund to their spouse or a person who intends to enter into an agreement with the member about splitting their superannuation interests in the event of separation of marriage.

Where the member's employer (or former employer) has appointed a financial adviser or other intermediary to arrange and/or administer the Group Salary Continuance Policy on their behalf, we will provide the member's personal information to the financial adviser/intermediary in order to undertake the management and administration of the policy. Where the member wishes to authorise any other parties to act on the member's behalf, to receive information and/or undertake transactions, the member should notify us in writing. If you have any further questions you would like answered about privacy, please write to us or contact us at:
